One of the subjects under discussion early in April was the possible necessity of doing away with Maria Eva Duarte de Peron, the President's wife, "for the good of the nation."

2. Peron's wife was reported to possess a fund of 2,000,000 pesos, which she intends to use in an attempt to win a seat in the Senate.
3. The Argentine Government advanced 5,000,000 pesos to the newspaper Noticias Graficas, to enable the latter to continue publication. The pro-Government tone of this newspaper has become more pronounced.
4. The question of sending aid to Paraguay in the present conflict in that country caused serious differences in Argentine official circles. President Peron and General Oscar Silva favored granting aid to the forces supporting President Loringo. Chief of Police Velasco and certain Army leaders were reported to oppose this measure.
